

Dancin' Barefoot

T-MAC Music for Children Charity

Dancin' Barefoot is an annual one day music festival held in beautiful Peachland, BC with proceeds going to the T-Mac Music for Children Charity. The event, now in its 4th year typically plays to 2,500 – 3,000 people and features 12 hours of both professional as well as up and coming musicians. With the teen talent competition in the early afternoon, local musicians are given the opportunity to not only perform before a larger audience than they have before, but also to compete against their peers and before a panel of professional judges for things such as recording time and voice / instrument lessons.

The beneficiary of this event, T-Mac Music for Children, was founded to provide underprivileged youth in the central Okanagan with a passion for music the means to reach their full potential. This could take the form of instruments, recording time, voice or instrument lessons, or anything else that could be directly related to the cause of the charity.
